I/we the undersigned hereby declare that the manuscript entitled

Submitted to the Journal of Al-Farabi for Humanities (JAH) on the date shown below, to be considered for publication is my/our original work. The ideas, views, innovations and results presented in the above manuscript are totally mine/ours unless otherwise referenced in the text (abiding by international plagiarism standards and intellectual property rights). Work(s) of others necessary for development of ideas presented in this manuscript is/are clearly referenced within the text and accurately listed at its end.

I/We hereby also declare that I/We fully understand the international code of scientific research and publication ethics specified in the JAH’s authors guide and JAH’s website. I/We take full responsibilities for ensuring that my/our work leading to this manuscript and the manuscript itself, during all stages from work to publication, is fully aligned with the international code of scientific research and publication ethics.

To be filled only in case one of the authors is authorized on behalf of the others to signed this agreement

I hereby declare that I am authorized by all co-authors of the above manuscript to sign this agreement on their behalf.