

Assist. Lecturer Amjed Mohammed Nasif

Department of law

Assist. Lecturer in private international law

Email: amgad.mohammed@alfarabiuc.edu.iq

Education:

MSc, University of Alexandria University 15/3/2018

BSc, University of Al-Mamoun University 20/8/2014

Profile:

A doctoral researcher in private international law, an assistant teacher in the Law Department, and a practicing lawyer in the courts for five years, and she taught in other private colleges, for example, teaching at Al-Rafidain University College in the Law Department, in addition to being a member of temporary and central permanent committees such as exam committees, I taught various subjects in the Department of Law, which have an impactful role in the life of the community.

Teaching

- 1. Private International Law: This law is concerned with the special international legal relations between the individual and the state.
- 2. Human rights: concerned with the rights of individuals in society through international legislation and agreements

Research Focus

Breach of the international sales contract

Publications

Affiliations/Activities

- 1. Member of the Iraqi Bar Association