

Professor Khazaal jassim Abdalnabi

Department of Media

Professor of Academic Degree: Professor, Doctor of Philosophy of Media

Email: dr.abdalnabi.khazaal@alfarabiuc.edu.iq

Education:

history College University Academic degree

1981/1982 Arts Baghdad Bachelor's

1988 Arts Baghdad Masters

1996 Arts Baghdad PhD

Profile:

1- Worked as a rapporteur for the Department of Media at the College of Arts, University of Baghdad for the period 1997-1999.

2- Head of the Radio and Television Journalism Department at the College of Mass Communication, University of Baghdad for the period 2013-2014.

3- Associate Dean for Student Affairs at the College of Mass Communication, University of Baghdad for the period 2016-2018.

4- Head of the Media Department at Al-Farabi University College for the period from 2020/2021 and 2021/2022.

Teaching

He is currently studying communication theories, a material that talks about the concept and definition of communication and the stages of human communication development throughout history

Then the definition of the different theories of influence, starting from the theories that appeared in the third decade of the twentieth century, which focused on studying the strength of the influence of the means of communication on the public, such as the theory of direct influence and limited, moderate or strong influence, up to modern theories

To reach the modern theories developed by researchers to solve and explain social and media problems and phenomena that are concerned with studying the phenomenon of public opinion and the phenomenon of the increased use of social networking sites and the phenomenon of intense exposure to local, Arab or international satellite channels and the phenomenon of violence and the role of the media in it and other phenomena that theories are interested in studying

Research Focus

He has many scientific research published in refereed journals and a lot of journalistic writings published in local newspapers. He also has experience in radio and television work. Among these research are the following:

- 1, The phenomenon of listening to international radios, communication and social interaction, a field study to measure the exposure of Iraqi journalists to international radios and its impact on modifying some of the contents and methods of what they write, Journal of Arts, College of Arts, University of Baghdad, No. 74, 2006.
- 2. Students and watching specialized satellite channels, an applied study on a sample of Baghdad University students. Journal of Media Researcher, College of Media, University of Baghdad, No. 21,
- 3. Fragmentation of the national audience in light of the multiplicity of Iraqi satellite channels in the Iraqi society, Journal of Media Researcher, College of Information, University of Baghdad, No. 15, March-April, 2012.
- 4. Space Religious Discourse, Its Features and Repercussions on Society Segments (Students of Islamic Colleges as a Model), Journal of Media Researcher, College of Media, University of Baghdad, Issue 13, July, 2011.
- 5. Correspondents and professional standards in news coverage, a field study on the professional standards adopted in news coverage for Iraqi satellite TV correspondents, Journal of the Media Researcher, No. 30, 2016.
- 6. Iraqi satellite channels and their role in shaping the political awareness of young people about the issue of forming regions (The Iraqi and Sharqiya channels as a model) Journal of the Media Researcher, Issue, 2014.
- 7. Manifestations of media incitement to violence on Iraqi satellite channels, from the point of view of Iraqi media professionals, Journal of the Media Researcher, No. 28, 2015.
- 8. Political debates in political dialogue programs in Iraqi satellite channels and their repercussions on society from the point of view of media and politics professors. Book of Proceedings of the Sixth Annual Scientific Conference of the College of Mass Communication / University of Baghdad, held under the title: Media and the Changes of the Age. In May 2012

Publications

1. The Media and Communications Commission Book No. (1) (Iraqi Media, Freedom of Expression and Access to Information) 2010

Issued by the Department of Studies, Research and News in the Iraqi Media and Communication Commission, 2010.

2. The Art of Editing News in International Radios between Objectivity and Employment, Culture House for Publishing and Distribution, Amman, 2003

3. The Art of Editing News and Programs in Television and Radio Channels, House of Wisdom, Baghdad, 2010.

Affiliations/Activities

Member of the Iraqi Journalists Syndicate

Member of the Union of Arab Journalists.